A total of 130-136 credits of coursework are required for graduation depending upon whether students have met their language requirement in high school. If a waiver is granted for the language requirement, 130 total credits will be required. If a waiver is not granted, the SESS major will require 136-142 credits depending on the number of semesters needed to satisfy the language requirement. If a student must fulfill 12 hours of foreign language, it will probably be necessary to take 2-4 courses during Intersession, particularly Humanities courses, to free spaces for required courses during the regular semesters in order to graduate in four years.
