Course Description

HIST 378. FOOD AND FEASTING IN THE WESTERN TRADITION. An examination of the mystery and wonder of man as the only animal who eats instead of feeds. The course will analyze the dining patterns and habits of the Hebrews, Greeks, Romans, and early Christians. Through the developments in dining brought about by the Industrial Revolution and the global economy, students will learn that mealtimes are more than a mere intersection of meat and drink. On a deeper level, our meals represent the intersection of theology, philosophy, history, and poetry. This amazing interplay reaches its epic fulfillment in the Feast – a special time at which family, congregations, and local communities gather round to celebrate the Abundance and the Divine. Spring semester only, three hours.

5. As you find courses you need for your major, gen ed requirements, or general electives you're interested in taking, be sure to note the course reference number for each. You'll need this information to register.

10. You must have your advisor approve your schedule. However, do not request advisor approval until you are done registering via myGCC as advisor approval will close out your online registration permission. Once you are fully done registering via myGCC, please email your academic advisor directly and let him/her know your schedule is ready for advisor approval. Once approved, your courses will change from 'Reserved' to 'Current' status which secures your seat in those classes.
